The Joy of Living

Unlocking the Secret and Science of Happiness

The Buddha taught that the basic nature of mind is clear and joyful. But this is not the everyday experience of many people. Through meditation, one can return to the essential nature of mind and lead a happier and healthier life. During this program, Tibetan Buddhist scholar and meditation master Mingyur Rinpoche will discuss the science of happiness and teach traditional Tibetan Buddhist meditation techniques that can help one lead a joyful life.

From the jacket of The Joy of Living:

“In this groundbreaking work, world-renowned Buddhist teacher Yongey Mingyur Rinpoche invites us to join him in unlocking the secrets behind the practice of meditation. Working with neuroscientists at the Waisman Laboratory for Brain Imaging and Behavior, Yongey Mingyur provides clear insights into modern research indicating that systematic training in meditation can enhance activity in areas of the brain associated with happiness and compassion. He has also worked with physicists across the country to develop a fresh, scientifically based interpretation of the Buddhist understanding of the nature of reality.”
